

Bill Allard

Bill Allard was born and raised in the streets of Boston, Massachusetts where he spent the first years of his life gaining an education in self-defense. Nothing very disciplined, but he mastered the Art of Survival.

He then joined the United States Army and was a Sergeant in the Special Police Detachment in Nuremberg, Germany. When he returned to the States he settled in California where he studied Robert Ito's White Tiger Kempo Karate for two years.

He then found a long lost cousin, Sensei Ed Schaeffer, of Kyokushinkai Kan, who introduced him to The Way of Ultimate Truth, both physically and spiritually.

Bill then joined Kyokushinkai and studied under the guidance Sensei Ed Schaeffer and Hanshi Don Buck.

He received his Shodan from Sensei Ed Schaeffer in 1985. Now at the age of sixty, Bill has been honored with the position of Branch Chief of Kyokushinkai School of the Tiger in the State of Oregon, by Hanshi Fred Buck. "It is good to have an end to journey towards, but it is the journey that matters in the end." OSU !
